

Lesson 5 — 歡迎你來

Welcome!

Let's Learn Mandarin · Book 1 · Teacher's Manual

壹、學習目標 — Learning Objectives

Theme: Meeting New Friends

After completing this lesson, students will be able to use Chinese to:

1. Introduce someone else.
 2. Express friendliness to a friend.
 3. Discuss vacation plans.

貳、教學重點及教學活動設計 — Key Teaching Points and Activity Design

一、暖身活動 — Warm-Up Activities

1. Review the grammar from Lessons 3 and 4, and chat with students about their family members' occupations and daily life.
 2. Sentences to use in warm-up:
 - S (person) + 在 + (place) + V (O)
 - S (person) + _____ (Vs) + 不 _____ (Vs)?
 - S (person) + 很 _____ (Vs)
 - S (person) + 不 _____ (Vs)
 3. Assess students' learning level, lead students through the supplementary vocabulary from Integrated Activity 4, and introduce the "S + 住在 + _____" structure in advance.

二、詞彙教學 — Vocabulary Notes

1. 平常 (píngcháng) — "usually / normally" A frequency adverb, typically placed after the subject and before the verb.
2. 想 (xiǎng) — "to want to / to think about / to plan to" An auxiliary verb expressing personal intention or plans. Be sure students do not confuse it with 喜歡 (to like). Compare:
 - 我想去迪士尼樂園玩。 — I want to go to Disneyland to play.
 - 我喜歡去迪士尼樂園玩。 — I like going to Disneyland to play.
3. 認識 (rènshi) — "to know (a person) / to be acquainted with" This word is introduced through the greeting expression in this lesson. Have students practice the introductions and responses in dialogue form: A says "這是……" and B replies "認識你很高興 / 很高興認識你." Both forms ("Nice to meet you" and "Very pleased to meet you") are acceptable and commonly used; this lesson uses both so students become comfortable with either version.

4. 來 (lái) / 去 (qù) — “to come” / “to go” This lesson introduces both words, starting from the simplest unidirectional use. Teachers should pay attention to practicing directionality, laying the foundation for more complex directional complement verbs studied later (e.g., 進來, 進去, etc.).
5. 放假 (fàngjià) — “to have a holiday / to be on vacation” This term has a broad scope. In this lesson it refers to students’ own school holidays. If students are adult learners, the term can be extended to include national holidays and days off work.
6. 國家 (guójiā) — “country / nation” Teachers may, depending on the situation, practice the names of several countries using the supplementary vocabulary in Integrated Activity 4. When practicing the grammar structure “住在,” the names of these countries can be substituted in.

◎ Teaching Method

For beginning-level vocabulary instruction, it is recommended to proceed from top to bottom, using sentences as the foundation rather than teaching vocabulary in isolation from the text. Instruction should pair vocabulary with context, introduce the lesson text and grammar simultaneously, help students recognize vocabulary and become familiar with usage, and then consolidate pronunciation. For step-by-step details, refer to the suggested teaching flow in the Text Instruction section.

三、語法教學 — Grammar Patterns

Grammar Pattern 1 — 這是 + Personal Relationship (Introduction Formula)

This sentence pattern is typically used to introduce someone when two people are meeting for the first time. It is a colloquial expression. For example:

- 這是我弟弟。 — This is my younger brother.
 - 這是我弟弟，王家文。 — This is my younger brother, Wang Jiawen.

Grammar Pattern 2 — S + 住 (live in, at) + Place Word

住在 is used to express that someone lives in a particular place. 在 here is a preposition followed by a place word. For example:

- 他住在臺灣。 — He lives in Taiwan.

If an adverb is used, it is placed before 住:

- S + Adv + 住在 + place
 - 他不住在臺灣。 — He doesn’t live in Taiwan.
 - 他平常住在臺北。 — He usually lives in Taipei.

Grammar Pattern 3 — Question Pronouns

When forming a question using interrogative pronouns such as 什麼, 哪裡 (哪兒), or 誰, simply replace the relevant part of a declarative sentence with the appropriate question pronoun.

- Question: 他叫什麼? — What is he called?
- Answer: 他叫王小文。 — He is called Wang Xiaowen. (declarative sentence)

Grammar Pattern 4 — S + (Vaux) + 去 + Place Word + V (action)

去 is placed before a place word, with an action verb following the place word, to express “going to a place to do something.” For example:

- S + (Vaux) + 去 + Place Word + V
- 我想去法國念書。 — I want to go to France to study.

◎ Common Student Error

When using 去 or 來, the reference point is the speaker’s current location. For example: - “我去美國玩” — the speaker is currently NOT in America. - “我來美國玩” — the speaker is currently IN America.

Teachers should pay attention to this type of error in student usage.

四、課文教學 — Text Instruction

◆ Key Sentences

1. 這是我弟弟，王家文。 — This is my younger brother, Wang Jiawen.
2. 我平常住在臺灣。 — I usually live in Taiwan.
3. 現在學校放假，我來美國玩。 — School is on vacation now, so I’ve come to America to have fun.
4. 我想去迪士尼樂園玩。 — I want to go to Disneyland to play.

◆ Suggested Teaching Flow

1. The teacher, speaking from Wang Mingwen’s perspective, introduces his younger brother Wang Jiawen (pictures may be used), and says some sentences from the lesson text, such as: “這是我弟弟，王家文。他平常住在臺灣，現在學校放假，他來美國玩。他想去迪士尼樂園玩。” This familiarizes students with the key sentences of the lesson.
2. Read through the text together; students prepare context cards to aid comprehension.
3. Introduce grammar: Divide the dialogue into sections according to grammar patterns and teach in sequence. First let students understand sentence meaning and roughly memorize pronunciation; then reinforce specific grammar structures and vocabulary. For example:
 1. Use a situational context to introduce the following dialogue:

王明文：Gloria，好久不見。Gloria：你好，好久不見。王明文：這是我弟弟王家文。家文，這是我朋友，Gloria。Gloria：你好，家文，認識你很高興。王家文：Gloria，我也很高興認識你。
 2. Teacher-student Q&A: Have students become familiar with the sentences, memorize the meanings, and practice pronunciation.
 3. Sequentially introduce Grammar Pattern 1 — “這是 + Personal Relationship, name” — along with the vocabulary in that dialogue section, and the contexts for using “好久不見” and “認識你很高興 / 很高興認識你。” Use substitution drills to help students confirm the grammar structure and pay attention to pronunciation.
 4. Wrap up by reviewing the dialogue, grammar structures, and pronunciation with students.

5. Then sequentially introduce the remaining dialogues, grammar patterns, and vocabulary from the lesson.
4. After reading through the text again, ask comprehension questions based on the text. Sample questions:
 1. 家文是誰？ — Who is Jiawen?
 2. Gloria 認識家文嗎？ — Does Gloria know Jiawen?
 3. 家文在哪裡念書？ — Where does Jiawen study?
 4. 家文平常住在哪裡？ — Where does Jiawen usually live?
 5. 明文現在住在哪裡？ — Where does Mingwen live now?
 6. 家文的學校現在放假嗎？ — Is Jiawen's school on vacation now?
 7. 家文來美國做什麼？ — What did Jiawen come to America to do?
 8. 家文想去哪裡玩？ — Where does Jiawen want to go to play?

Have students answer the following based on their own situation:

9. 你平常住在哪裡？ — Where do you usually live?
 10. 你兄弟姊妹是學生嗎？他們在哪裡念書？ — Are your siblings students? Where do they study?
 11. 學校放假 / 公司放假，你想去哪裡玩？ — When school/work is on holiday, where do you want to go?
5. Have students practice reading the text in groups, then have individual students take turns reading aloud, and correct pronunciation.
 6. Using the content of the text, have students use what they have learned to do narration exercises, in order to achieve the lesson's learning objectives. In addition to dialogue, students should also develop the ability to narrate independently.
 1. Put students in pairs and, using the key sentences from this lesson, cooperate to introduce Wang Mingwen's younger brother.
 2. The teacher provides necessary vocabulary or phrases via flashcards or PPT, and has students produce the following content:
 - a. 這是王明文的弟弟，王家文。 — This is Wang Mingwen's younger brother, Wang Jiawen.
 - b. 他平常住在臺灣。 — He usually lives in Taiwan.
 - c. 現在學校放假，他來美國玩。 — School is on vacation now, so he's come to America to play.
 - d. 他想去迪士尼樂園玩，也想去國家公園玩。 — He wants to go to Disneyland, and also wants to go to a national park.
- (The above content may be adjusted flexibly by the teacher based on students' level and circumstances.)*
7. After completing the text instruction, lead students through the grammar exercises to confirm the grammar structures.
 8. After completing the grammar exercises, for characters with more complex structures or that students tend to write incorrectly, provide explanation or demonstrate stroke order.

五、綜合活動 — Integrated Activities

Activity 1

1. Goal: Students can read the sentences in the dialogue without the assistance of Zhuyin or Pinyin, and pronounce them correctly.
2. Method:

- a. Have students practice the dialogue in groups.

2. Method:
 - a. Have students fill in the dialogue content.
 - b. The teacher calls on students to read out or write the answers.
 - c. Whether to write Chinese characters or Pinyin can be arranged according to students' level.

 - b. Divide students into groups, explain the activity method, and remind them of the sentences they should use.
 - c. Have students speak using the dialogue format from Integrated Activity 3. If time permits, have students switch roles for additional practice.
 - d. As appropriate, call on students to complete the dialogue in front of the whole class.

Activity 4

1. Goal: Students can fluently use the sentences learned in this lesson to ask about and describe their own and others' living situations and vacation plans.
2. Method:
 - a. Use pictures to lead students through supplementary vocabulary.

 - d. As appropriate, randomly call on students from different groups to complete the following Q&A in front of the whole class:

Q：你（現在）住在哪裡？ A：我住在_____。 Q：你放假想去哪裡玩？ A：我想去_____玩。

七、語音教學 / 語音複習 — Phonetics

1. Pinyin Introduced in This Lesson

Initials: j, q, x

Finals: -iu (iou), -iao, -eng

Spelling notes:

1. When the final -ü is preceded by the initials j, q, or x, the umlaut dots are dropped and it is written as -u. Example: qù (去).
2. Referring to the explanation in Lesson 2: the standard order for marking tones is a, o, e, i, u, ü — with one exception: for -iu, the tone mark goes on the -u. Example: jiǔ (久).
3. When -iu has no initial before it, it is written as you. Example: yǒu (有).
4. When -iao has no initial before it, it is written as yao. Example: yào (要).

2. Phonetic Combinations Not Used in Chinese

This lesson contains phonetic combinations that do not appear in any Chinese words. When practicing the four tones for a particular syllable, syllables that don't exist in Chinese may come up. In this textbook, such syllables are indicated with parentheses: e.g., (jiú).

For practice, try to use vocabulary from other lessons as much as possible, and avoid drilling phonetic combinations that don't exist in Mandarin.

3. Pronunciation Practice

Use projected slides or flashcards to have students read sentences or words aloud, and correct their pronunciation.

1. Stroke Order Website

<http://stroke-order.learningweb.moe.edu.tw/home.do>

1. Stroke order: The lesson vocabulary includes characters such as 常、家、園, which beginner students tend to write with incorrect stroke order. Teachers may demonstrate the correct stroke order in class.
2. Character structure activity: Write the following characters on the board (or projected slide) and have students discuss together to find which characters share the same component. Teachers may increase or decrease this activity based on students' level and available time. During the activity, the teacher speaks as little as possible and lets students discuss on their own, finding the answers visually.

Which of the following characters share the same component? 請 朋 說 現 認 校 識 歡 誰

(The character 請 is shown as the example in the center of a web diagram with blank circles around it.)

Answer: 說、認、識、誰 (all share the 言 speech radical)
