

Lesson 10 — 學華語難不難？

Is It Hard to Learn Mandarin?

Let's Learn Mandarin · Book 1 · Teacher's Manual

壹、教學目標 — Learning Objectives

Theme: Learning

After completing this lesson, students will be able to use Chinese to:

1. Talk about their own experience learning a language.
 2. Discuss a person's learning progress.
 3. Evaluate a person's language ability.
 4. Ask others about their performance in learning.

貳、教學重點及教學活動設計 — Teaching Focus and Activity Design

一、暖身活動 — Warm-Up Activities

1. Activity format: Use pictures to review vocabulary already learned that is relevant to this lesson (e.g., speaking Chinese, writing characters, playing tennis, jogging, singing). The teacher gives examples and asks questions to help students become familiar with the usage of 會.
 2. Sentences to use:
 - 你會__？ — Can you __?
 - 我(不)會__。 — I (don't) know how to __.

二、詞彙教學 — Vocabulary Notes

1. 一下 is placed after a verb to indicate that the action is brief or easy to accomplish. Note that when the verb includes an object, the structure is V + 一下 + O — for example, 打一下網球 is correct; * 打網球一下 (VO + 一下) is not.
2. 喝杯咖啡 is short for 喝一杯咖啡. When the numeral before a measure word is 一 (one), it can be omitted; other numbers cannot be omitted. In this lesson, 我們去喝杯咖啡。 means 我們去喝咖啡。
3. The particle 吧 is placed at the end of a sentence to make a suggestion, as in: 我們去喝杯咖啡吧！(Let's go get a cup of coffee!)
4. 覺得 expresses the speaker's opinion or view. When expressing a negative opinion, 不 is placed after 覺得 in the sentence — for example: 我覺得他不 會說中文。 is different in usage from 我不覺得他 會說中文。
5. 不錯 means “quite good” or “not bad” — essentially the same as 很好。

6. 會 has multiple meanings; this lesson covers only one: “to have the ability to do something as a result of learning.” Do not confuse it with the 會 in 明天會下雨 (it will rain tomorrow).
7. The adverb 差不多 is placed before a numeral + measure word + (noun) to mean “approximately” or “about.”
8. 有一點 and 一點 are different, and students often confuse them. This lesson will use short-phrase drills to repeatedly practice 有一點 + Vs (貴、忙、累、多、少.....).

◎ Teaching Method

For beginning-level vocabulary instruction, it is recommended to teach from top to bottom, using sentences as the foundation rather than teaching words in isolation outside of the text. During instruction, build context first, then introduce the text, grammar, and vocabulary simultaneously. This helps students recognize vocabulary, become familiar with usage, and reinforce pronunciation. See the recommended teaching flow in the text instruction section below.

三、語法教學 — Grammar Notes

1. Verb-得 Complement (Resultative/Degree Complement)

In a sentence, the structural particle 得 follows a verb, and after 得 comes a complement describing the manner or degree of the action. This complement typically consists of an adverb (Adv) + stative verb (Vs).

Pattern: S + V + O, V + 得 + (Adv) + Vs

- 他說中文，說得很好。 — He speaks Chinese; he speaks it very well.
- 她學中文，學得不錯。 — She is learning Chinese; she learns it quite well.

◎ Common Student Error: The verb before 得 must not include the object. The incorrect form would be: * 他說中文得很好。

2. 有一點 + State Verb — “A Little / Somewhat” (with a negative connotation)

The adverb 有一點 modifies stative verbs and indicates a low degree, carrying a slightly dissatisfied or negative tone. — can be omitted, giving just 有點:

- 有一點 + State Verb
- 說中文有 (一) 點難。 — Speaking Chinese is a little difficult.
- 我的工作有 (一) 點忙。 — My job is a little busy.

◎ Common Student Errors: (1) Omitting 有, as in: * 說中文一點難。 (2) Using it in a positive context, as in: * 美味餐廳的牛肉麵有一點好吃。

3. 會 — Ability Acquired Through Learning

會 indicates an ability gained through study or training. For example: 我會說中文。(I can speak Chinese.) / 我會寫字。(I can write characters.) The negative form, as with other auxiliary verbs, is formed by placing 不 before 會.

- S + 會 + V(O) — 我會說中文。 — I can speak Chinese.
- S + 不會 + V(O) — 我不會說中文。 — I can't speak Chinese.

◎ Common Student Errors: (1) 會 can only be used for abilities acquired through learning; the following sentence is incorrect: * 我會吃飯。 (2) Students may be influenced by their native language and assume 會 works exactly like “can” — but the usage and restrictions differ.

4. 多少 vs. 幾 — Asking About Quantities and Numbers

Both 多少 and 幾 are question words for asking about amounts and numbers.

(1) 多少 can be used to ask about any quantity or number. 多少 cannot be followed by a measure word.

- Pattern: S + V + 多少 + (Measure Word) + N?
- Q: 那個學校有多少學生? — How many students does that school have?
- A: 那個學校有三百個學生。 — That school has three hundred students.
- Q: 你會寫多少字? — How many characters can you write?
- A: 差不多一百個字。 — About a hundred characters.

(2) 幾 is generally used when the expected number is less than ten, and must be followed by a measure word.

- Pattern: S + V + 幾 + Measure Word + N?
 - Q: 你有幾個孩子? — How many children do you have?
 - A: 我有三個孩子。 — I have three children.
 - Q: 明文有幾個弟弟? — How many younger brothers does Mingwen have?
 - A: 他有兩個弟弟。 — He has two younger brothers.

四、課文教學 — Text Instruction

◆ Key Sentences

1. 我覺得自己學得不錯。 — I think I’m learning pretty well.
2. 我覺得說話不難，可是寫字有一點難。 — I think speaking isn’t hard, but writing is a little difficult.
3. 我會寫差不多三十個字。 — I can write about thirty characters.
4. 我常常跟明文聊天，練習我的中文。 — I often chat with Mingwen to practice my Chinese.

◆ Suggested Teaching Flow

1. Taking the perspective of Gloria, describe her experience learning Chinese using some of the key sentences from the text. For example: “我覺得自己學中文學得不錯。我覺得學中文，說話不難，可是寫字有一點難。現在我會寫差不多三十個字，我還會寫我的中文名字。我常常跟明文聊天，練習我的中文。” — and so on — to familiarize students with the key sentences of the lesson.
2. Lead the class in reading the text aloud together. Flashcards may be prepared to help students understand the text.
3. Introduce grammar through the text: divide the dialogue into sections and teach them in order. First help students understand the meaning and roughly memorize the pronunciation, then reinforce individual grammar structures and vocabulary.
Suggested flow:
 1. Use context to introduce the dialogue:
 - A: Gloria, take a break. Let’s go get a cup of coffee!
 - B: Sure, I’m very busy today — I need a break right now.
 - A: How is your Chinese learning going?
 - B: I think I’m learning pretty well.

- A: Is learning Chinese hard?
 - B: Do you think speaking is hard?
 - A: I think speaking isn't hard, but writing is a little difficult.
2. Q&A between teacher and students to help students become familiar with sentences, memorize meanings, and practice pronunciation.
 3. Introduce Grammar Pattern 1 (得 complement), Grammar Pattern 2 (有一點), the usage of V一下 and 吧, and how to assess one's language learning progress, in sequence. Use pictures or slides, and replace items through questioning and substitution drills. Help students confirm grammar structures and pay attention to pronunciation.
 4. Review the dialogue, grammar structures, and pronunciation in a consolidated way.
 5. Continue to introduce the remaining dialogue, grammar, vocabulary, and other content.
4. After reading the text again, ask comprehension questions based on the text.

Sample questions:

1. Lisa 和 Gloria 現在要做什麼？— What are Lisa and Gloria going to do now?
2. Gloria 現在學什麼？— What is Gloria studying now?
3. 她覺得自己學得怎麼樣？— How does she feel she is progressing?
4. Gloria 覺得學中文難不難？— Does Gloria find learning Chinese hard?
5. 她會寫多少字？— How many characters can she write?
6. 她還會寫什麼？— What else can she write?
7. 她平常跟誰一起練習說話？— Who does she usually practice speaking with?

Have students answer based on their own situations:

8. 你今天忙不忙？累不累？— Are you busy today? Are you tired?
 9. 你現在學什麼？— What are you studying now?
 10. 你覺得自己學得怎麼樣？— How do you feel about your own progress?
 11. 你覺得學中文什麼難？什麼不難？— What do you find hard about learning Chinese? What isn't hard?
 12. 你會寫多少字？— How many characters can you write?
 13. 你也會寫自己的中文名字嗎？— Can you also write your own Chinese name?
 14. 你平常跟誰一起練習說話？— Who do you usually practice speaking with?
5. Have students practice reading the text aloud in groups, then have individual students take turns reading it. Correct pronunciation as needed.
 6. Using the content from the text, have students practice narration using what they have learned, in order to achieve the lesson's learning objectives. Students should develop not just dialogue skills but also the ability to narrate independently.
 1. In pairs, have students use the key sentences to describe Gloria's learning situation.
 2. Using flashcards or slides to supply needed vocabulary and phrases, have students produce the following content:
 - a. Gloria 現在學中文。— Gloria is currently studying Chinese.
 - b. 她覺得自己學得不錯。— She thinks she is progressing quite well.

- c. 她覺得學中文，說話不難，可是寫字有一點難。— She thinks speaking Chinese isn't hard, but writing is a little difficult.
- d. 她會寫差不多三十個字。— She can write about thirty characters.
- e. 她還會寫自己的中文名字。— She can also write her own Chinese name.
- f. 她常常跟明文聊天，練習她的中文。— She often chats with Mingwen to practice her Chinese.

(The teacher may add or remove items above based on students' level and situation.)

7. After the text instruction is complete, have students complete the grammar exercises to confirm grammar structures.
 8. After completing the grammar exercises, demonstrate stroke order for characters that have complex structures or that students are prone to writing incorrectly.

陸、網站資源延伸補充 — Online Resources

1. Chinese Character Stroke Order

<http://stroke-order.learningweb.moe.edu.tw/home.do>

- Stroke order: The characters 難、喝、覺、寫 and others introduced in this lesson are prone to stroke-order errors for beginning learners. Teachers may demonstrate stroke order in class.
- Character structure: Write the characters below on the board (or via projector) and have students discuss which characters share the same component. This activity can be adjusted based on students' level and time available. The teacher should guide minimally and allow students to discuss and identify answers visually on their own.

Find characters that share the same component:

林 息 說 好 喝 你 休 家 杯 嗎 妳 聊 想 聽 明 寫 話 字
吃 早 李 做 星 媽 請

- 「女」：好、妳、媽

七、語音教學 / 語音複習 — Phonetics / Phonetics Review

1. Tone Sandhi of — (yī)

When — is used in names, dates, or ordinal sequences, it retains its original 1st tone, which is also how it is written. For example: - Táiyī gōngsī (台一公司), yīyuè yīhào (一月一號), dì yī kè (第一課)

2. Tone Sandhi of — (yī)

When — appears in quantifiers or combines with other characters to form a word, its tone changes — following the same rules as 不:

1. If the following syllable is 1st, 2nd, or 3rd tone, — changes to 4th tone (written and pronounced as yì):
 - yìqiān (一千), yì máo (一毛), yìqǐ (一起)
 2. If the following syllable is 4th tone or neutral tone, — changes to 2nd tone (written and pronounced as yí):
 - yíge (一個)
